

Verification and Validation for Hybrid Testing Methods

David Wagg

University of Sheffield, UK

In this talk we will discuss how verification and validation techniques can be applied to hybrid testing methods. In particular, we consider how the numerical part of a hybrid test might be verified and how the complete hybrid test might be validated.